

Balsam Balm Bash

Sunday 17th July from 10am

Saturday 23rd July from 10am

Meet at the entrance

Bring some gloves, a drink and wear long sleeves.

Everyone Welcome

Reasons for holding a Balsam Balm Bash

Introduced to the UK in 1839, Himalayan balsam is now a naturalised plant, found especially on riverbanks and in waste places where it has become a problem weed.

Himalayan balsam tolerates low light levels and also shades out other vegetation, so gradually impoverishing habitats by killing off other plants.